Maybe the Teacher
Is Worse Off
Than the Pupil

Commodity and stock prices jolted downward last week, carrying wholesale food quotation to the lowest levels in two years.

The government, persisting in its demand for power to control high prices with price-fixing and rationing measures, now finds itself in an odd position. All along, Washington has been lecturing business on how to "adjust" itself, but I shouldn't be surprised if this new turn in economic events disclosed that the teacher is worse off than the pupil.

For the government in recent times has come to depend so completely on the income tax as its major revenue prop that any sudden markdown in American prices, with its inevitable reduction in profit and income tax, is bound to play havoc with federal financing. The very definite socialist trend that has been developing since Mr. Truman's re-election therefore puts the administration in a difficult position. It has been asked, asking for an increase in taxes in order to launch new socialistic schemes—but if the present leveling-off of prices and income tax receipts continues as indicated then the administration will have to ask a thundering increase in tax rates just to hold the programs it already has.

Because in a falling market you have to do one of two things with any business (or government) operation:

1. Raise the tax rate in order to offset declining tax revenue, or

2. Cut the expense budget.

Any time a person outside the administration suggests cutting the budget he is damned as a reactionary.

But during the war the government pretty well exhausted the field of income taxation and present schedules are almost as where they were at the end of the war.

For instance, a $100,000 salary is taxed at $146,551; and a man making a million would pay the government $890,148.

An outside critic might observe that the biggest pirate on the seven seas is the government itself. And if you care to pursue the subject further, some critic might find himself speculating what a pirate is likely to do when his audacious ship suddenly springs a leak.

— Maybe I ought to be worried. I'm not. I'm just interested.

Cost of State Government Climbs Sharply

Chicago, Feb. 7.—(P)—The nation's cost of state government is going up by more than two and quarter billion dollars.

Virtually all 48 states this year are asking for or already have record high spending programs.

Higher school bills are a major factor.

The larger budgets are caused by greater demands for education, for generally rising costs of services and materials, and for expansion programs for mental hospitals, highways, and public aid and welfare.

The dollar size of budget plans has jumped in all 44 states where comparable figures are available.

An Associated Press survey today showed that the total budget requests or grants for the 1949 fiscal period in 44 states is $11,524,200,000.

The comparable figure for the previous period is $9,286,320,000. This represents grants by 45 states for 1947 or 1948 periods.

Education is the chief reason for the increases in more than half of the states. At least 26 states find their biggest single money problem is for higher teacher salaries, for more state money to help local school, and for improvement of state-aided colleges and universities.

Fourteen states report their operating budgets are up chiefly because they must pay more for wages, supplies, equipment and buildings.

Seven find the biggest item responsible for the largest increases are other principal factors.

Budgets close to the billion dollar mark are being worked on in such large states as New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois and California.

Nevada spends the least. It is operating on a seven million dollar budget. But it has requests for $24,000,000 to spend from anticipated funds totaling half that amount.

A state-by-state comparison of the figures, however, is impossible in types of bookkeeping fiscal periods, cases because of various periods, and inclusion or exclusion of fixed funds, special tax and income, federal aid, capital improvements sums, and other capital money.

Nashville to Hear Famed Pianist Friday

William Hatcher, pianist, will present a recital at the Nashville High School auditorium on Friday night, February 11, at 8:00 o'clock. The Nashville Literary Club is presenting this artist.

His piano recitals in hundreds of towns have brought high praise from the critics. Mr. Hatcher has studied under José Iturbi, at Mills University, and the Eastman School of Music. Still young, William Hatcher has already attained a great reputation as to give right to the title of "one of America's most versatile musicians."

Mindszenty to Know His Fate on Tuesday

By ENDRE MARTON

Budapest, Hungary, Feb. 7.—(P)

Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, the 50-year old leader of Hungary's 7,000,000 Catholics, today awaited the verdict of a people's court on charges of treason against the Communist-dominated government. Presiding Judge Vilmos Olthys and four lay-jurists who heard the dramatic three-day trial of Cardinal Mindszenty and six others accused with him to hand down their judgment tomorrow at 9 a.m. (2 A.M. CST).

If found guilty the Cardinal faces possible death by hanging.

The verdict will come 44 days after the cardinal was jailed. Besides treason he was accused of spying and black market money deals. His arrest followed a long and bitter battle between Cardinal Mindszenty and the government over state seizure of Catholics schools and other issues.

The Hungarian communist press strongly denounced the Cardinal as the court weighed its verdict.

The official communist newspaper "Szabad Nép" termed the trial a "defeat for the west" in the cold war.

The paper, in a front page editorial, described the Cardinal as "a wretched worm, a frightened scoundrel who abandoned his principles and aims, and is scared only for his miserable life."

Prominent Hungarian Catholics meanwhile voiced skepticism about the whole proceedings.

A group of important and fervent Catholics told this reporter they were simply unwilling to acknowledge that Cardinal Mindszenty was anything other than a very strong defender of his faith.

They said they felt there must have been some sort of trick, and that he did not believe the "confession" uttered by the cardinal is correct.

The Cardinal, alone in jail, had his "last word" before the people's court Saturday at the conclusion of the trial.

He prayed then "may the Lord give wisdom to the court when they pass their sentence, which may help a settlement at home and abroad."

He pleaded partly guilty but denied he had ever been "the enemy of the Hungarian people."

Whence the verdict, Cardinal Mindszenty of his lawyer may appear within three days. If there is an appeal, the papers are forwarded immediately to an appeals court, which must return its verdict within a week.

A convicted defendant, with permission of the people's court, may also appeal directly to President Szakasits for clemency.

Members of the press, chiefly Hungarian journalists, who covered the historic trial believed unanimously the sentence would be, at least, life imprisonment. Many believed he would be sentenced to death.

Definition of Diet—Simply a Fat Person That Has Had All the Starch Taken Out

By HAL BOYLE

New York.—(P)—The other day I puffed up to a door about the same time as two young ladies did.

Instead of waiting for me to open the door, they giggled and held the door open for me.

My gallantry gone, I followed my stomach in with a sigh. And the next time I saw some scales I put in a penny and watched the pointer swing around—way around. It quivered to a halt at the 197-pound mark. No wonder those two girls had giggled.

So now I am all over again in the dreary business of dieting, the leading American pastime.

And what good does it do? In the last 30 months I have been on at least eight separate diets. My weight has varied in that time from a peak of 202 to a low of 178.

Every time my weight fell I had to go to the tailor and have my suits taken in. Every time I gained the weight back I had to return to the tailor and have the suits let out again.

The last time I saw him he said:

"What, you again? Why don't you just buy a suit with rubber seats?"

It is wives who cause husbands to go on diets.

"Nogood loves a fat man," they say.

But is that really true? Henry VIII had more wives than he could shake guillotine at. Napoleon didn't lose at Waterloo just because he was plump. Julius Caesar never wanted folks with a lean and hungry look around him. How about Grover Cleveland and William Howard Taft? They won in a fair vote—and they both were fat.

Who was America's most famous beauty? Lillian Russell. And she had an appetite to match her curves. The Turks, noted connoisseurs of feminine charm, always liked their ladies rounded. In most lands today the well-upholstered woman still has an edge over the one who tries to go

Would Cut Out Two Thirds of U.S. Agencies

By STERLING F. GREEN

Washington, Feb. 7.—(P)—The Hoover commission called today for a vast government reshuffling which would squeeze 65 agencies into a tight group one-third that size, all under firm control of the president.

Reporting to congress on its 16-month search for ways to streamline the government, the group headed by former President Herbert Hoover urged giving the president broad new powers over his official family of powers it said are needed in the present "critical state of world affairs."

It said that under the present set-up, "authority is diffused, lines of authority are confused, staff services are insufficient."

The remedy that the commission proposed is a government pyramid based on the 2,000,000 federal employees and building up to a score of top-level agencies directly under the president—instead of the 65 which now report to him if they report to anyone."

At the head of this chain of command, the president would be fortified with new staff officials, a powerful "managerial arm" in an expanded budget office, much wider powers to reorganize government offices and authority to name many officials without the Senate's approval.

Omitted from the list of offices left standing for streamlining were nine "regulatory" agencies, including three—the Interstate Commerce Commission, Federal Reserve Board and Securities and Exchange Commission—which many congressmen have proposed putting out of the president's reorganization reach.

The report was the first chapter of a massive blueprint for federal reform which Hoover has said could save the taxpayers "billions"—to be handed Congress in 12 installments before March 31.

Today's chapter is only a "general skeleton," the report said, of the biggest reorganizing job in history, a promise that later reports there a week will fill in that framework with the details of proposed mergers and abolitions and the patching of "weakened or actually broken" lines of authority.

The Cardinal, alone in jail, had his "last word" before the people's court Saturday at the conclusion of the trial.

He prayed then "may the Lord give wisdom to the court when they pass their sentence, which may help a settlement at home and abroad."

He pleaded partly guilty but denied he had ever been "the enemy of the Hungarian people."

Whence the verdict, Cardinal Mindszenty of his lawyer may appear within three days. If there is an appeal, the papers are forwarded immediately to an appeals court, which must return its verdict within a week.

Community Clinics to End Tuesday

The last of the community clinics will be held this week with William Kennedy, AP&T industrial development department in charge, Cy Forsythe, Chamber of Commerce director announced today.

He said, however, that the administration's main effort in the campaign will be through the medium of various state organizations. Several highway groups, the Arkansas wood products assn., and local civil groups interested in certain highway improvements already have endorsed the bond issue.

The bill has been endorsed by industry witnesses. It is expected to be approved by the Senate committee because the Democrats are an 8 to 5 majority.

After that comes the big debate and the voting in the Senate.

A briefer debate will be held in the House of Representatives.

Eventually, weeks from now—maybe months—congress will agree on what labor law America will have.

In all this, southern Democrats appear to hold a balance of power.

Most southern Democrats will follow President Truman's lead in supporting the Taff-Hartley "repeal" pledge.

Both sides have more than a passing interest in the association's planned pre-election campaign.

On the matter of anti-Semitism, I feel particularly qualified to speak because as a leader of the Hungarian Jewish Community and as a member of the Hungarian parliament for 17 years, I personally sponsored anti-Semitism propaganda prior to World War II. To the accusation Cardinal Mindszenty gave a vague and strangely explanation that he had done so because "it was the spirit of the times."

Three Top Games Here This Week

STOCK TAKEN UP BY CITY POLICE on January 23, 1949. One dark bay horse, weight about 1,000 pounds, black mane and tail, in good condition. The owner may recover by paying pick up fee, feed and advertising. C. E. Baker, Chief of Police.

A full menu of basketball is in store for fans at the high school this week with the Bobcats taking on two crack District 7 teams and the Legion Independents having one fast title on schedule.

Tonight the Legionnaires go to Emmett for a game with the fast improving Skychiefs and return home Wednesday night where they meet one of Texarkana's top-rated teams, the Buchanan Bucks.

Tuesday night the Bobcats entertain a band of Wildcats from El Dorado in what promises to be a rugged contest. At the oil city several weeks ago Hope edged them out by a single point.

Friday night the Bobcats play host to the Buckeyes of Texarkana, another team that gave them a fast game on the Buckeye court. Smackover was the first team in the district to defeat the highly-touted Camden Panthers.
